Don't fail to read the "SUNDAY STAR" To find out what we're doing: We tell you who and what we are and how we're doing it. Don't think because we haven't raved And caused a big commotion About our streets not being paved, That we are out the notion.

But we're so busy day and night, Making real, real money, We really haven't time to fight. Now you may think it funny, Mr. Vestman's busy now, Selling screens and sweaters; A man across the other side Has got a sale on blotters.

The dentists here are busy now, Extracting with great pains; While Arthur May thinks you shall Take home a mess of brains. The A. & P. is working hard To beat the Sanitary; Nicholas Auth is selling hard, So Compound, do not tarry.

Miller's selling go-carts (Ford), 1922 model; This special brand Until the kid can toddle. Johnson's selling love letters; On the easy payment plan; Davis here to catch the rest, And hook 'em if he can.

Rosenberg will trick you From your pocket to your shoes; But you'll have to ask a copper Where to get the non-skid boozie. Others here in every block, Knocking out the spots; Rev. Jeffries over there Busy tying knots.

Harvey Lanz, the drug store man, Is selling pills and plasters; Dickbart's store, inside the door, Looks like some great disaster. Here's a barber on the corner, Trimming handsome faces; Talbotville is selling knobs To suit his straight case.

Rison sells his cream puffs, now, Great big ones for a nickel; And when you eat his quarter pie I'm sure your throat will tickle. Eye sharps are busy making, So when you walk behind, You can tell a chicken from a hen; It saves a lot of time.

Now I must hustle to the bank To call my pennies down; So when it's time to fall in ranks I'll buy myself a crown. Friends, I'm going to leave you, I hope I've done no wrong; I'll be here again next Sunday, So long, boys.

ARMY AND NAVY NEWS

BY CAPT. ARTHUR G. DUNCAN, U. S. R.

THE ARMY

One of the outstanding feats of discipline and training incident to the Army which occurred during the early part of the Knickerbocker Theater disaster was that performed by Col. E. A. Kreeger, U. S. Army, formerly acting judge advocate general of the Army.

Called to the telephone and informed that his daughter and son-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. J. H. Hill, were in the ruins, Kreeger arrived at the scene, and after assuring the imprisoned that aid would soon arrive, he assumed command of the scattered military units and established the preliminary organization of the rescue. He brought the rapidly gathering rescuers into a unified whole.

Kreeger's first act was to communicate with the various chiefs of the Army and Navy, requesting the immediate delivery of lifting jacks, rivet wrenches and other emergency supplies, which unquestionably saved the lives of many unfortunate sufferers.

Gen. Pershing was one of the first to be reached, and arriving upon the scene in his dinner clothes, he gave Kreeger full authority to use every measure possible in order to expedite the rescue.

Col. Kreeger was not immediately present in the Knickerbocker building yesterday, and while acting judge advocate general in France during the world war he was awarded the distinguished service medal.

Modestly declaring that his action was "nothing more than the duty of a soldier," Col. Kreeger refused to comment on the part he played in leading the rescuers. The facts, however, were obtained by the staff of the War Department from Gen. Pershing and others on the scene. Records in the War Department show that Col. Kreeger was decorated for bravery while a lieutenant in the 39th U. S. volunteer infantry during the Philippine insurrection, and while acting judge advocate general in France during the world war he was awarded the distinguished service medal.

Training Program for Summer. Last year many more applications were received for citizens' training camp instruction than it was possible for the War Department to approve, owing to the lack of facilities for training. There is undoubtedly a growing appreciation throughout the country of the benefits to be derived in the summer camps, and it is expected that the number of young men who prefer to give up their vacation for two weeks' training will be increased.

The program for the approaching summer must depend upon the liberality of Congress in the matter of appropriations for this purpose, as anticipated in the estimates submitted to the House appropriations committee. It is not yet known whether the War Department means to permit the training this year of 8,000 officers and 122,000 enlisted men of the National Guard, 29,900 officers and 10,000 men of the reserve forces, 8,000 of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps personnel and 20,000 civilians. Eventually, when the country recognizes the advantage of the national volunteer training of our youth, it is so planned to develop the training program as to build up an auxiliary body of possibly 2,000,000 men, or a suitable number in keeping with increased population of the nation.

Legion Indorses Military Policy. Directed by its national convention to approve and commend the proper development of the military policy outlined in the national defense act, the military affairs committee of the American Legion presented to Congress a report which, in part, embodied the statement that "the citizen soldier part of the Army, as represented in the National Guard and organized reserves, provides, in the opinion of the legion, the most democratic and the most economical solution of our problem of national defense." In fully recognizing the national demand for retrenchment and reduction in governmental expenditures the committee expressed the opinion "that the funds included in the budget estimates are essential to the development of this program in that recognition given by the War Department estimates to the importance of the National Guard and the organized reserves represents minimum appropriations for the proper functioning of these component parts of the Army of the United States."

Unqualified indorsement was given to Gen. Pershing's recommendation that a considerable number of the least effective officers of the regular establishment be eliminated from the active list of the Army, but that the commissioned personnel "should not be cut below the number recommended by Gen. Pershing, which is the number approved by the budget committee, as these officers are required not merely for the units of the Regular Army, but for the development of the National Guard, the organized reserves and the system of citizen training." The report of the legion committee concludes with the statement that "as representatives of an organization containing a million ex-service men, organized into 11,000 posts throughout the United States, we feel entitled to expect with some confidence that the country will look for some time to the ex-service men of the nation for a sound and patriotic judgment upon subjects relating to national preparedness."

THE NAVY

Upon request of Secretary Denby the controller general has authorized "an extension of the administrative examinations of the navy fiscal officers' accounts. Twenty-five ships are receiving an administrative examination prior to settlement by the general accounting office. Much credit is given for the success of the lecture course to the assistance rendered by the banking officials of Washington, who volunteered their service and advice in preparation of the lectures."

WAR VETERANS' AID VOTED IN STATES

Cash Bonuses of $191,339,200 Paid and $156,500,000 in Adjusted Compensation.

Every state in the Union, excepting Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi, has passed legislation giving or authorizing aid for war veterans of some nature, either in the form of cash bonuses, monetary aid or relief, exemptions or other benefits, according to a nation-wide survey just completed by the Bank of America in New York city.

Cash bonuses totaling $191,339,200 are being paid to veterans in thirteen states, and $156,500,000 more in "adjusted compensation" will be disbursed under legislation already passed, the survey says.

The compensation ranges from $10 for every month of service, in Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, Ohio, Vermont and Wisconsin, up to $25 a month in North Dakota. A number of the states specify maximum limits to adjusted compensation for each veteran, varying from $100 in New Jersey to $500 in Oregon, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island have "adjusted" veterans' compensation to the extent of $100 outright in cash. Other states in which cash bonuses are being paid are Michigan, Minnesota, South Dakota and Washington.

Disbursing Work Over. Many of the states have practically completed the work of disbursing the bonuses, while the time limit for application in Maine expired with the end of 1921.

Referendum elections are to be held in a number of states to vote on cash bonus propositions. Next November Illinois will pass on the proposal of a $25,000,000 bond issue to pay its veterans $15 per month of service up to $300; Kansas will vote on a $25,000,000 issue to provide $1 a day for veterans' war service, and Montana will decide on $4,500,000 to pay its veterans $10 per month of service, $200 maximum.

Iowa to Vote on Bonds. In November, 1922, Iowa's voters will consider the issuance of $22,000,000 in bonds for the purpose of paying its veterans 50 cents per day of service up to $350. In November, 1924, if the legislature passes again a bill on the subject, Pennsylvania will vote on a $25,000,000 bond issue to pay its veterans at the rate of $10 per month of service up to $200 maximum.

Legislation on this subject is reported as pending in California ($10,000,000 bond issue), Colorado, Kentucky ($10,000,000), Florida and New York. In Delaware, Indiana, Maryland, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas and Utah, legislation on bonuses has been brought in, but has so far failed of passage.

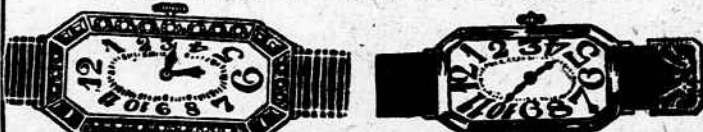

SHIP DELAYED BY STRIKE. HAVRE, February 4.—The steamship Rochambeau, which was scheduled to sail today for New York, was delayed on account of a strike by her stokers, fifteen of whom walked out. Officials of the French line said they hoped to replace the stokers in time for the boat to sail tomorrow.
